Journ. Dept. Has Confab Next Week More Than 200 Plan To Attend

The University of Omaha Journalism department will host its annual High School Journalism Conference next Thursday.

Over 200 students and journalism advisors are expected to attend the 3 to 8 p.m. event. Some 15 schools in the Greater Omaha area, including Blair, Council Bluffs and Fremont, are expected to enter competition for awards.

Areas of Competition

Each school has submitted one entry in each of six areas: best editorial, best feature, best front page, best news story, best photograph and best sports story. Each winner will receive a bronze medal. In addition, a plaque will be awarded for the best front page make-up.

Included in the program will be an informal panel discussion by recent OU journalism graduates now working in the media. They are Paul Beavers, KMTV; Gail Grove, KETV; Russell Grove, WOW-TV and Sharon Johnson, World Herald. This will take place in the Eppley Conference Center.

Movie

After the discussion, those in attendance will view a film entitled "Producing the Student Newspaper". The presentation of awards to the high school journalists will follow a dinner in SC Dining Rooms A and B.

President Milo Bail and Journalism instructor Walter B. Graham will speak at the awards presentation. Olivia Bergman will present a report on the university's journalism department.

Journalism Contest Here Tomorrow

Ninety students from 11 Nebraska District II high schools will compete in ten journalism contests here tomorrow.

This competition is the first one sponsored by the Nebraska High School Press Association and the Nebraska School of Journalism with the cooperation of seven contest centers at colleges and universities throughout the state.

Omaha University Journalism instructor Walter B. Graham is the District Contest Center Chairman who will host the District II gathering.

Participants

Class A, B and C sweepstakes awards will be made to the winning schools in each classification at the state contest dinner in Lincoln on May 2.

Individuals will receive first, second and third place certificates in the district contests.

Founders Day

Members of Phi Chi Theta, Women's Business Honorary, observed their Founders Day Tuesday. Active members took part in the ceremony.

Pledging of new members will take place March 17.

Bard Comes To Life As Full House Hears Guthrie

British born Sir Tyrone Guthrie, lectured to a full house Monday night when he spoke on "Shakespeare and the Theater".

Sir Tyrone, who is regarded in the theater world as the most outstanding producer in the world today, is also a director of the Old Vic Theater in London and has been its governor since 1956.

He delighted his audience with a witty and informative lecture on the Shakespearean Theater and the period that followed it.

Underground

OU's guest lecturer pointed out that the Shakespearean Theater did not die out, but merely went "underground." When it came back into style, new theaters were being built to suit the Italian Opera style.

Also discussed at this point was the different type of audience that attended the plays. Originally, plays were given for the middle class person, whereas after the Puritan Reformation, plays were performed for patrons and the more wealthy group of people.

Theaters Changed

The theaters in which the play were given also went through a change. Shakespearean plays require an intimate setting where the audience is close to the stage and can imagine the various settings. With the Italian opera style, sets were changed more often and more elaborate and expensive designs were required.

Sir Tyrone, who sparkled his lecture with humor, concluded the university's second part of its American Heritage Series.

Problems Solved

The third and final speaker in the series will feature Dr. A. L. Rowse. He will speak on "The Problem of Shakespeare's Sonnets Solved," next Wednesday at 8:30 p.m. in the Adm. building auditorium.

Dr. Rowse will be the Visiting Distinguished professor this year. He will also speak at the University's Honors Convocation this morning.

Rowse is a noted historian and writer and Shakespearean authority. His new biography of Shakespeare was the Book of the Month selection for January.

Game Room Displays Prize Winning Photos

The display will consist of prize winning photography done by students in grades seven through twelve. The contest is sponsored annually by Eastman Kodak Company and conducted by Scholastic Magazines, Inc.

Walter Graham, journalism instructor, said "The photos show the professional ability that high school students are showing today."

Runs 250 Man Corps ---

Responsibility Rests On Col. Burdge

There is a lot of responsibility in being Group Commander of the 470th AFROTC Cadet Group and that responsibility rests on the shoulders of Cadet Colonel Robert E. Burdge.

Cadet Colonel Burdge's most important task is seeing that the 250-man Cadet Corps runs smoothly. Since he achieved this position of Group Commander in January, he has worked toward that end.

During his freshman and sophomore years, Bob was a member of the Sabre Drill Team, and he received the Rotary Club Medal. He recently received the Distinguished Military Student award.

Bob is majoring in Radio and TV announcing and works part-

Bob, a member of the Arnold Air Society, is considering a

W W Fellowship Given Hoffman

David Hoffman, 4228 Mayberry St., has been announced winner of a Woodrow Wilson National Fellowship award.

The fellowship is worth 18 hundred dollars for the academic year plus tuition at the University of Hoffman's choice.

Hoffman will graduate in June with a B.A. in History.

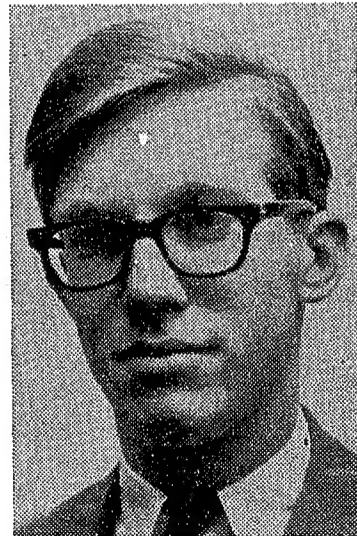

The award is given by the Ford Foundation on an annual basis to 12 hundred students across the nation for graduate work.

Hoffman is considering attending Indiana University or an eastern school to complete his graduate History work next fall.

Teaching English 109 on campus this semester, Hoffman is active in Corinthians and is a past chairman of the Young Democrats.

The Woodrow Wilson Foundation scholarship is unique in the fact that the student does not apply for the award, but rather the dean or head of his department nominates the student to be considered for the scholarship.

The student, after being nominated, writes a letter to the foundation headquarters and explains his educational background, intellectual interests, aims in his field and what he plans to do after graduation.

Hoffman is the tenth winner of the fellowship at the University of Omaha since the first was awarded in 1957.

Approximately one-third of those interviewed by the foundation representatives are awarded the fellowship after graduation.

Rowse Speaks

Prof. A. L. Rowse, of Huntington Library, San Marino, Cal., will be on the University of Omaha campus today through next Thursday.

Tonight he will address the Missouri Valley Conference of Colligate History Professors in Room 101 of the Applied Arts Building at 8 p.m.

Then on Wednesday night, March 18, at 8:30 p.m. he will give the American Heritage lecture in the Administration Building Auditorium.

Campus Approved As ETV Station

OU Regents Sanction Transmitter Here

The ETV Channel 16 facility is one step closer to being located on the University of Omaha campus.

At their last meeting, the Board of Regents gave its approval for the erection of transmitting equipment here.

William Ramsey, chief engineer for the state ETV network, is proceeding with the plans for engineering data for FCC and FAA approval.

Plans for the incorporation of the local group of educators from the Omaha public schools, who are working with Channel 16, are now under way. The incorporation will become effective upon approval from the state ETV Commission.

The ETV Commission has appropriated funds for the erection of transmitting facilities and tower but funds to pay for employees and added equipment will have to be raised. That is the purpose of the incorporation. The educators, from many of the local public schools, will work toward raising these funds and will call themselves the Omaha Association for Educational Broadcasting, Inc.

Bootstrapper Receives Award

Lt. Col. Clifford N. Green, presently on "Bootstrap" at the University of Omaha, was awarded the Air Force Commendation Medal in a brief ceremony last Friday, by Lt. Col. Emilio P. Ratti, professor of air science AFROTC.

Col. Green's award was made for his meritorious service as Chief of the Engineering Branch and as Deputy for Engineering, Ballistic Systems Division Site Activation Task Force at Minot Air Force Base, N.D.

Under Col. Green's command the first three flights of Minot's Minuteman Missiles were efficiently turned over to the Strategic Air Command.

Eight Given Reading Roles In Shakespeare Production

Readers were selected this week to take part in the program to be presented by the Readers' Theater in the SC Ballroom at Omaha University on April 30.

The program will present "Scenes from Shakespeare." Readers will appear in small groups or in soliloquies. They are: Nina Bieda, Steve Boguchwal, Maureen Borden, Virginia Lawton, Ann McCleod, Judy McFarland, Russ Mullins and Jeff Schwartz.

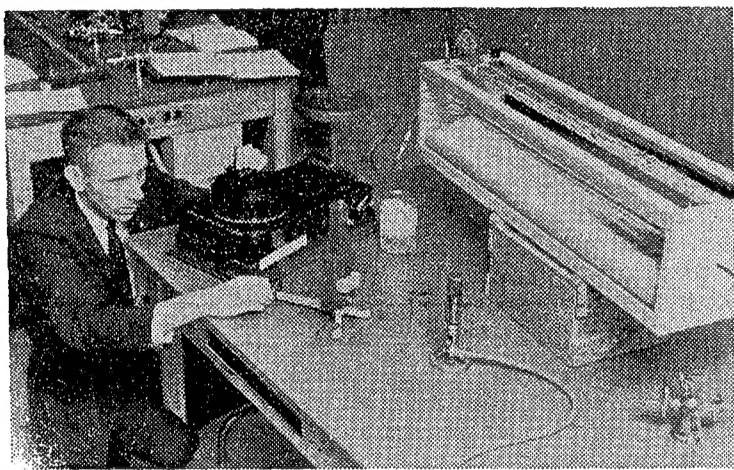

Two male parts are still open. Any full-time student who wishes to read for one of these parts may do so by contacting Professor Warren C Gore in Adm. Room 315.

Readers receive scripts and rehearse. However, the script remains on a music rack on stage at all times for readers who do not wish to memorize their lines.

This group provides a pre-flight for the University Theater and gives would-be actors and actresses an opportunity to try their fledgling wings, according to Professor Gore.

The public is invited to the performance. More than 130 persons attended last year's performance.

Heat Waves

Donald Shult, assistant professor in the Physics Department demonstrates his new invention.

The machine measures the thermo-conductivity of copper through heat waves. Mr. Shult uses it to demonstrate to physics students the principles of heat flow. It can also be used to measure the quality of insulation.

Debators Head For State Meet

Eight Omaha University debators are attending the annual Nebraska State Tournament (March 13-14) at Wayne State College in an attempt to receive top honors in debate, extemporaneous speaking, original oratory and discussion.

OU will host the semi-annual Province of the Plains debate tournament (March 19, 20, 21) for the first time since 1958. Province of the Plains is a regional tournament sponsored by Pi Kappa Delta, an honorary fraternal organization for the 35,000 intercollegiate debators and orators. Twenty-two schools will be represented out of the 26 Pi Kappa Delta schools in Colorado, Kansas and Nebraska.

The Pi Kappa Delta tournament was started in 1912 when the organization was formed. "This will be one of the toughest tournaments of the year for the OU debaters," said Dr. Aldrich Paul, head of the speech department.

March 25 Is Multi-Deadline

Planning to drop a class?

Better do it before March 25 or you will be greeted with an F when you receive your grades.

The day before spring vacation will be D-day for University of Omaha students. Registrar Virgil Sharp recently announced business from his office which must be taken care of by that day.

Classes dropped after this day cannot be changed from credit to audit. They will automatically be determined as failures. The drop date has been moved up this year due to an early Easter. Ordinarily it would fall in the eighth week of the second semester.

Make-up work for an incomplete from a previous semester is also due on this date.

Seniors who intend to receive a degree at graduation, must apply for it at the Registrar's office before April 8.

Stories for the English department publication "Grain of Sand" are due on March 25. Items can be turned in at Dr. Ralph Wardle's office.

History Instructors Hold OU Conference

On campus this weekend are about 175 participants in the Seventh Missouri Valley Conference of Collegiate Teachers of History.

The two-day sessions will cover American and European history and new presidential libraries.

Dr. A. Stanley Trickett, chairman of the history department, is also general chairman for the conference.

Today's guest speaker, A. L. Rowse, British historian, scholar, writer and Shakespearean authority, will speak on "The Historical Shakespeare".

The conference is seeking to promote more effective teaching of history in college and university classrooms.

History on KWOU

This Saturday the KWOU closed circuit broadcasting facilities will host Dr. A. Stanley Trickett, head of the history department, teaching Humanities 201.

The TV classroom, utilizing a student crew under the direction of Art Bauer and Tom Leverman, will be televised until June 6.

ZOOM... Cadets Get Jet

The University of Omaha AF ROTC Department became the proud owners of a jet engine this week.

The engine, a General Electric J-47, (the type used in the now obsolete Air Force B-47) came to OU in a rather round-about way.

Captain Ronald Seinwell, assistant Commandant of Cadets, gave this account.

One of his students asked him if he wanted a jet engine.

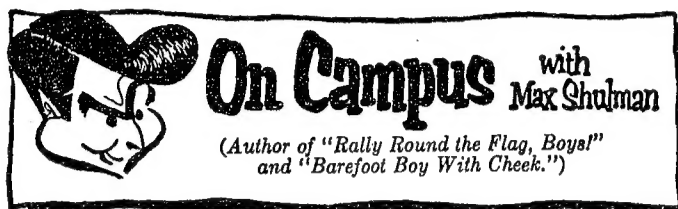

He accepted the offer thinking that it was a model.

A few days later the student showed up with information that Boys Town had two jets and was looking for some group to take the one it was not using.

A call to Boys Town proved the cadet's story and arrangements were made to have the engine transported to OU.

Saturday morning the "beast" was deposited in Room 191 in the Administration building.

Captain Seinwell said the jet engine will be used as a training aid in the sophomore classes when the students study forms of propulsion.

A ROBE BY ANY OTHER NAME

With the Commencement Day just a couple of short months away, the question on everyone's lips is: "How did the different disciplines come to be marked by academic robes with hoods of different colors?" Everybody is asking it; I mean everybody! I mean I haven't been able to walk ten feet on any campus without somebody grabs my elbow and says, "How did the different disciplines come to be marked by academic robes with hoods of different colors, hey?"

This, I must say, is not the usual question asked by collegians who grab my elbow. Ordinarily they say, "Hey, Shorty, got a Marlboro?" And this is fitting. After all, are they not collegians and therefore loaded with brains? And does not intelligence demand the tastiest in tobacco flavor? And does not Marlboro deliver a flavor that is uniquely delicious? And am I not short?

But I digress. Back to the colored hoods of academic robes. A doctor of philosophy wears blue, a doctor of medicine wears green, a master of arts wears white, a doctor of humanities wears crimson, a master of library science wears lemon yellow. Why? Why, for example, should a master of library science wear lemon yellow?

Well sir, to answer this vexing question, we must go back to March 14, 1844. On that date the first public library in the United States was established by Ulrich Sigafos. All of Mr. Sigafos's neighbors were of course wildly grateful—all, that is, except Wrex Todhunter.

Mr. Todhunter had hated Mr. Sigafos since 1822 when both men had wooed the beautiful Melanie Zitt and Melanie had chosen Mr. Sigafos because she was mad for dancing and Mr. Sigafos knew all the latest steps—like the Missouri Compromise Samba, the Shays' Rebellion Schottische, and the James K. Polk Polka—while Mr. Todhunter, alas, could not dance at all, owing to a wound he had received at the Battle of New Orleans. (He was struck by a falling praline.)

Consumed with jealousy at the success of Mr. Sigafos's library, Mr. Todhunter resolved to open a competing library. This he did, but he lured not one single patron away from Mr. Sigafos. "What has Mr. Sigafos got that I have not?" Mr. Todhunter kept asking himself, and finally the answer came to him: books.

So Mr. Todhunter stocked his library with lots of lovely books, and soon he was doing more business than his hated rival. But Mr. Sigafos struck back. To regain his clientele, he began serving tea at his library every afternoon. Thereupon Mr. Todhunter, not to be outdone, began serving tea with sugar. Thereupon Mr. Sigafos began serving tea with sugar and cream. Thereupon Mr. Todhunter began serving tea with sugar and cream and lemon.

This, of course, clinched the victory for Mr. Todhunter because he had the only lemon tree in town—in fact, in the entire state of Maine—and since that day lemon yellow has, of course, been the color on the robes of masters of library science.

(Incidentally, the defeated Mr. Sigafos packed up his library and moved to California where, alas, he failed once more. There were, to be sure, plenty of lemons to serve with his tea, but, alas, there was no cream because the cow was not introduced to California until 1937 by John Wayne.)

Greeks To Hear Morrison's Talk; Painting Ceases

Top Active, Pledge To Get Trophies

Governor Frank Morrison is the scheduled guest speaker for the annual Greek Week Banquet tonight in the SC Ballroom.

The Governor will speak on the fraternal system in America today and relate it to his college days at the University of Kansas where he was a member of Tau Kappa Epsilon.

The banquet, beginning at 6:30 p.m., will end a busy week for the Greeks who have been painting the interior of Children's Memorial Hospital every night from 7 to 10:30 p.m.

Trophies will be awarded to the outstanding sorority and fraternity pledge and active. They are chosen for their high scholastic records. Intramural trophies will also be given.

The Panhellenic award will be given to the sorority with the highest grade point.

The Men's Glee Club, under the direction of John Miller, will entertain with some songs. Each Greek group will also sing one of its favorite songs.

Sitting at the speaker's table beside Governor Morrison will be President Milo Bail, Dean Elizabeth Hill, Dean Donald Pflasterer and William Gerbracht.

Panhellenic Council President Christi Jensen and Inter-Fraternity Council President Lee Kallstrom are in charge of the arrangements.

Lecture Series Has Only 6 Left

The series of lectures presented by the American Women in Radio and TV has been termed a success by Marilyn Hayes, a representative of the association.

Six more of the 14 lectures have yet to be presented. On March 25, the students will tour Allen & Reynolds Advertising agency. On April 4, the group will tour the educational television station in Lincoln.

The association is also planning to hold a banquet on April 9, at the Viennese Ballroom at Indian Hills Schimmel Inn. Guest speaker at the banquet will be Dorese Bell, White House Correspondent for Mutual Broadcasting.

In addition to this, the association hopes to schedule a series of "a day in the field" for individual members of the class. No specific dates have been set for this as yet.

Chi O's Name More Actives

Activation of 21 members into Chi Omega took place last weekend at the Viking Club.

The initiates are Pam Adams, Janet Anderson, Barb Arnold, Livi Bergman, Dona Boggs, Bev Burrows and Barb Covault.

Others are Francee Ernst, Marcia Hanek, Donna Henderson, Diane Hudgens, Kristie Isaacson, Dianne Johnson and Linda Krebs.

Anne McLeod, Daisy Meissner, Sue Miles, Peg Parden, Terri Pospichal, Jane Stockman and Priscilla Wilkins complete the list.

Livi Bergman was elected model pledge by the active chapter.

Zeta's Announce Award Winners

Activation Banquet Is At Mediterranean

Awards were given to outstanding members of Zeta Tau Alpha at the annual activation banquet held Sunday at the Mediterranean.

Cathy Stober was named outstanding pledge by the active members. Sue Cunningham was awarded the pledge's plaque for best dressed active.

Evette Abraham, Judy Anderson, Kathy Fentress and Barb Keast were given awards for the highest scholarship in each class. Kathy Kennelly was named for the member showing the most improvement scholastically.

The pledges gave their pledge trainer Mary Beth Meyers a gift to show their appreciation for all the help she has given them during the year.

Joanie Edwards was pledged in open bidding by Zeta Tau Alpha.

Mother's Club Shows Styles

The Sigma Kappa Mother's Club sponsored a style show last Saturday. It was held in the Cimarron Room on the fifth level of the Center Building.

Fashions from Natelson's and Tober's were modeled by representatives from the Nancy Bounds Charm and Modeling Studio. Nancy Bounds served as narrator for the style show.

Refreshments were served and door prizes were awarded.

Mrs. Paul A. Smith was in charge of arrangements.

Janie Carter was pledged in open bidding Wednesday.

Margie Scott Is Alpha Xi Prexy

Margie Scott is the new president of Alpha Xi Delta. First vice president is Judy Jensen and Christi Jensen is the pledge trainer.

Others are Pauline Williams, rush chairman; Mary Lynn Rhode, recording secretary; Shari Zagor, corresponding secretary; Gail Enquist, chaplain; Linda Anderson, treasurer and Bonnie Hill, assistant treasurer.

Lee Ann Borchman, quill chairman; Kathy McGuire, marshal; Elaine Kriesel, ritualist; Carol Bachus, historian and Marlene Hall, journal correspondent complete the list.

Eighteen women were initiated recently, they are:

Marsha Abel, Bonnie Applegate, Carol Bortoff, Dotti Brian, Kathy Daley, Margaret Daley, and Kathy Fry.

Others are Pam Fryholm, Sherrie Gilligan, Jo Ann Kruntorad, Mary Massara, Sue Moran and Mickey Walte.

Hilde Walter, Carolyn Williams, Mary Sue Winsor, Kathy Wybenga and Judy Zerbe complete the list.

Joan Burkheimer, Diane DeFord, Chynne Koser, Beverly Lindgren and Barbara Oglesby were pledged in open bidding.

The movement to make OU municipal began when the Nebraska legislature in 1929 authorized cities of metropolitan size to establish municipal universities.

Lambda Chi Gains Six New Actives

Lambda Chi Alpha held activation ceremonies for six initiates. They are John Berkheimer, Lou D'Ercole and Fred Haerberlein.

The other new actives are Roger Henderson, Chuck McNulty and Burney Ramming.

St. Pat's Day Theme Of Organization Tea

A tea will be given by the Student's Education Association March 18 at 3:30 p.m. in the S.C. cafeteria, rooms A and B.

A St. Patrick's Day theme will be used.

All students majoring in education are invited to attend the tea.

Co-ed Of The Week

Barb Shrader, 21 year old senior, adds to our spring fever as she reigns as the GATEWAY'S "Co-ed of the Week." Barb, an English major, is a member of Zeta Tau Alpha and has served as that sorority's music chairman. Last year she was TOMAHAWK beauty queen, Tau Kappa Epsilon Sweetheart and College World-Series Sweetheart. She was also a member of the Indiannes, the choir and a cheerleader. Off campus activities for our "Co-ed" include skiing in the winter and water sports in the warmer months.

For adding a zest of springtime to the GATEWAY, we offer congratulations to Barb Shrader, "Co-ed of the Week."

Distance Runner Supreme - - -

Gould Top In Long Run

By Ken McEwen

The University of Omaha track team, highly regarded in the sprints the past few seasons, shows signs of becoming stronger in distance running in the near future. Led by Roger Sayers and Terry Williams, the team has been in close competition in the relays and shorter runs, but has lacked in the middle and long distance points.

One solution to the improved distance portion of the team is one Ken Gould. Posting a time of 4:16 for the mile in last weeks CIC championships, Ken should add needed points in the next couple years. As a surprise choice in the 880, he finished third.

Cross Country Expert

Probably no national record breaker, he is a strong contender at conference and other national meets. The 20 year old graduate of Lyons (Nebr.) high also competed in cross country last fall. His top time for the four mile Elmwood course was 21.48. While running cross country, Ken quoted a selection from the Bible as to why he ran distance races. He told a GATEWAY reporter, "Whatsoever the hand findest to do—do it with all thy might." This is Ken's philosophy on the sport. He feels that he was cut out for running and so he works hard at it. He also says that he enjoys the close association earned through stiff competition in running.

History Major

A history major in the Pre-Law school, he carries a B minus average and hopes to take up law at a school in the Southwest. He says that he is also interested in the Peace Corps. The corps is still up in the air, according to Ken, but he says if he does decide on that occupation, he hopes to be sent to Asia with his wife Joan. Joan and he were just married January 25. She is the former Joan Malloy of Essex, Iowa. She attends the University of Nebraska School of Nursing.

Ken participated exclusively in track in high school. In addition to cross country, he ran in the mile and mile relay. At the state meet his senior year in 1961, he boasted a 4:29 clocking for the mile.

Transfers to OU

His interests in high school track prompted him to enroll at the University of Nebraska. However, after a year at Lincoln, he decided to transfer to Valparaiso University in Indiana. After a short stay there, it was back west once again.

Gould... Out Front

The time he chose the University of Omaha. He said that the campus at Valparaiso was extremely cold and the fact that O.U. had indoor track was inviting.

The time of 4:16 for the mile is the best thus far for Ken.

He, Coach Cardwell, and other track associates plan to attend the Kansas State Invitational this weekend. He plans to participate in the one and two mile runs.

As to training for an increasingly better time in distance runs, Ken says that he takes each race as it comes and tries to not have a pre-set time determined.

The 5'10", 135 pounder works Hinky Dinky warehouse for part time jobs.

Pi Kaps Capture Interfrat Crown

With a 4-0 record in Interfraternity Volleyball competition, Pi Kap remained the only undefeated team and captured the championship.

Sig Eps were victims in the title match, losing 15-10, 15-5 tying with TKE for runnerup. Lambda Chi and Alpha Epsilon Pi deadlocked in third slot with 1-2 records. The double elimination tourney was held March 2-5 in the OU fieldhouse.

Two rounds of competition are slated for Intramural Volleyball, with the schedule lasting until Monday, April 23. Dates of the tourney are as follows: March 16, 19, 23, April 6, 9, 13, 16, 20, and 23.

After one night of play, six teams hold undefeated records of 2-0; they are: Zekes, TKE, Lit Pikes, Magni "6", Faculty-Staff and Pi Kaps. The remaining teams, Iota Delta, Delta Rho, Theta Chi, Lambda Chi, PE Majors and Sig Eps have winless records of 0-2.

Swimming Meet

A nine-man team represented Omaha U last Saturday at the Kearney State College Invitational Swimming meet and tied for second place with Concordia.

Omaha's Ken Hamlin captured the 400 yd. free style in record time of 5.18 and an Indian Medley Relay team composed of Claude Jelen, Brad Lamdin, Mike Moore and Jay Grabow set a new standard of 2:025.

The Omaha squad captured three second places in individual competition. Keith Johnson placed runnerup in the 100 yd. backstroke with a time of 1:12.7; Ed Jones took second in the 50 yd. free style in 26.3 and Brad Lamdin was second in the 100 yd. breast stroke with an elapsed time of 1:17.7.

Kearney won the meet with a total of 77 points, just edging out Omaha and Concordia with 76 points each. Cellar position went to Wayne State with 37.

Paper Ready

Dr. Vatro Murvar, associate professor of sociology at Omaha University has prepared a paper for presentation at the Midwestern Sociological Society next month.

The convention will be held from Thursday, April 16 through Saturday afternoon, April 18. During this time a series of papers will be read and then criticized and discussed. Dr. Murvar will make his presentation on Friday, April 17.

Pitching Staff Looks Solid For OU AS Baseball Starts

By Dick Fletcher

If the baseball team plans to return to the top of the Central Intercollegiate Conference this year, a strong pitching staff will be needed.

OU Coach Virgil Yelkin may have just that if past performances are any indication of diamond fortunes for this year.

Four letter men head the list of 13 mound candidates. The four accounted for 20 of the Indians 21 wins last spring.

Senior Frank Pecha will be trying to improve on the 5-1 record he posted with a sore arm last year. All indications are that he is physically fit, after several workouts this year.

The others in the big four are experienced Juniors. Larry Krehbiel, the top performer with a 7-0 slate is joined by Ken McEwen, and lefty John Bozak.

McEwen picked up an early season no-hitter against CIC champion Washburn, and finished with a 7-1 record.

Bozak, a crafty reliever, picked up his only decision, a win, in an emergency starting role late in the year.

The Indians wrapped up the season with a 21-2 record, 5-1 in the conference for second place. The only losses came at the hands of Washburn. One was in loop action, and the second was in the finals of the NAIA area Tourney.

Trackmen To Run At Kansas St. Meet

Coach Lloyd Cardwell sends his fleet sprint corps of Roger Sayers and Terry Williams to the Kansas State Invitational today and tomorrow as the indoor track season comes to an end.

The speedy twosome will have a supporting cast of miler Ken Gould, hurdler Clyde Kettlesen plus relay men Ray Hultman, Herb Rhodes and Loren Drum.

Drum and Hultman will run the 600 while Sayers will defend his title in the 75 yard dash. Williams will also run the 75 and Sayers tries the 300 in the Manhattan carnival.

Cardwell plans to enter mile and two mile relay teams but is undecided about which men will make up the baton groups for tomorrow's finals.
